Gender and History Workshop Series

Fridays during Winter 2004 • Tisch Hall 1014, 12:00-2:00 p.m.

Please join us for this exciting series on the development of gender studies with six prominent gender specialists. Each speaker will situate a previously published work within its contemporary historiographical and theoretical context, and will reflect on how the field has changed since, and how she might write the piece differently today. The majority of the workshop time will be devoted to discussion and debate.

January 23
“Revisiting Am I that Name?” • Denise Riley
School of English and American Studies, University of East Anglia and 2004 Visiting Faculty Fellow, Institute for the Humanities, University of Michigan

February 6
“Discourse and Experience since the Linguistic Turn” • Kathleen Canning
Departments of History, Women's Studies and Germanic Languages and Literature, University of Michigan

February 20
“The New Men’s History” • Toby Ditz
Department of History, Johns Hopkins University

March 5
“Pre-Modern Births and Japanese Gender Studies” • Hitomi Tonomura
Departments of History and Women's Studies, University of Michigan

March 26
“Carnal Knowledge and Colonial Studies” • Ann Stoler
Departments of History and Anthropology, University of Michigan

April 2
“Autobiography, Personal Narratives, and Gender History” • Wang Zheng
Institute for Research on Women and Gender and Women's Studies Program, University of Michigan

Participants will need to read the relevant articles prior to each session. Copies will be made available two weeks in advance and can be picked up in the History Department mailroom (across from 1029 Tisch Hall). Refreshments will be served.

Questions and requests for campus-mail delivery of articles can be directed to:
Jessica Thurlow, Ph.D. Candidate, Department of History
Graduate Coordinator, 2004 Gender and History Workshop Series • jthurlow@umich.edu.

Primary support for this series has been provided by the Rackham Interdisciplinary Workshops Program. Additional support has been provided by the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts, Gender & History, the Global Turns and Gender Returns Program, the Department of History, the Institute for Research on Women and Gender, the International Institute, and the Women's Studies Program.