List Major Academic Recognitions, Honors, Fellowships, Memberships, Professional Papers, Presentations, etc.

You may append any additional information you wish to bring to the attention of the Fellowship Committee. This may include unusual circumstances relating to your academic record, student status, research interests, professional experience, etc. The fellowship committee places great emphasis on this statement.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT: Due to the rising costs of graduate education and substantial decreases in the funds available for the support of graduates, it has become necessary for the Graduate School to give heed to the resources which applicants themselves may utilize in helping to finance their graduate studies. While evidence of notable academic qualifications remains a primary consideration, a knowledge of the estimated financial resources and needs of applicants has become desirable supplementary information in reading decisions on certain awards. By answering the following questions and supplying data requested, you will assist the Graduate School and departments in determining the amount and form of financial aid to be offered to applicants.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

List any fellowships awarded by general competition (e.g. Danforth, Ford, NSF Graduate, AEC Graduate, Fulbright, New York Regents) for which you have applied for.
