My name is Kiyana Horton and I am a Counselor at Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS). I offer two groups, one for Black female undergraduates and one for Black female graduate students. I was wondering if you could help me advertise these groups with faculty and staff so they know they can refer students to me.

Our Voices

Our Voices is an empowering, supportive, and affirming group for Black female undergraduate students. In this safe and confidential space participants may explore and get support for a variety of issues such as family, relationships, self-esteem, beauty/body image, and academic difficulties. This group is co-created by group members and all topics are welcome. This group meets on Mondays from 3:00pm to 4:30pm. A pre-group meeting required. If you have any questions or would like to set up a pre-group meeting please contact Kiyana Horton at kshorton@umich.edu

Sister-Friends

Sister Friends is an empowering and supportive group for Black female graduate students. In this group we will explore issues relevant to Black women including self esteem, relationships, spirituality, academic pressures, beauty & body image, combating stereotypes, discovering HERstory, and the myth of the "Strong Black Woman." Black women will facilitate this group. This group meets on Wednesdays from 3:15pm to 4:45pm. A pre-group meeting is required. For more information or to schedule a pre-group meeting, contact Kiyana Horton at kshorton@umich.edu.

SEPT., 8 2013

IN FORUM HALL PALMER COMMONS

5:00 PM TO 7:00 PM

Young African-American males Here Earning A Destiny, through Honesty, Eagerness, And Determination of Self and the Association of Black Faculty Staff and Administrators Present: "Reflections in Black"

We invite all Black Faculty Staff and Administrators to joins us as ABPAFS and H.E.A.D.S welcome incoming first year and returning students to campus.

Reflections in Black is a formal welcome to Black administrators, faculty, staff, and current students of the University of Michigan. The program aims specifically to unite African–American freshmen in remembrance of the history of Blacks at the University of Michigan and to create a vehicle for them to meet and connect with Faculty Administrators and Staff as well as fellow students. Even though aimed at Black Students, this event is open to everybody.

Reflections in Black serves to build a sense of camaraderie amongst the Black freshmen and existing members of the University community. Just as the New Student Convocation’s purpose to is to welcome freshmen into the Wolverine family, Reflections in Black’s purpose is to address the particular needs and issues that have characteristically affected students of African descent in order to increase retention and improve the experiences of students on campus. The event will be held from 5:00pm until 7:00pm in Palmer Commons’ Forum Hall (4th Floor) followed by a reception catered by Pizza House afterwards.

If you are Faculty, Staff or an Administrator and you would like to say a few words on ABPAFS behalf welcoming students back or into the Black community at UoM please contact Leon Howard at howardii@umich.edu, or by phone at work (734) 763-0192, cell (231) 206-570.

“RESOURCE FAIR”

ABPAFS MONTHLY MEETING

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 26 2013

11:30 AM TO 1:00 PM

On Thursday, September 26, at 11:30 am to 1:00 pm ABPAFS will have a Resource Fair in the Trotter House lower level recreation room. Although resources in the fair will be directed towards meeting the needs of Black Faculty, Staff, and Administrators on campus the fair is open to everyone. They will include everything from professional opportunities, financial management organizations, hair care and health resources, professional clubs and organizations, volunteer opportunities, social outlets and child care businesses. Resources will also include anything on campus or off that helps Faculty, Staff and Administrators to manage their lives, their careers and or to address personal or professional needs and challenges.

ABPAFS INVITATION:

Dear Business Owner/Organization and Campus Partners,

Please accept this invitation to participate in the Association of Black Professional Administrators, Faculty and Staff (ABPAFS) “RESOURCE FAIR” to be held on Thursday, September 26, 2013, 11:00am-1:00pm at the William Monroe Trotter House Multicultural Center located at 1443 Washtenaw Ave, Ann Arbor, MI.

The idea behind the fair is to give campus partners, departments as well as local businesses/organizations an opportunity to connect with university Black faculty, staff, and administrators to introduce products/services to enhance the quality of their professional and personal lives. Please consider this as an opportunity to introduce your business/organization to this unique and diverse target market to showcase the products and services that you offer.

If you are interested in participating in the resource fair, please submit your registration form by Thursday, September 19, 2013 to secure your table at the fair by clicking on link below. If you have questions or require further clarification, you can contact me at howardii@umich.edu or by phone: work (734) 763-0192, cell (231) 206-5780.
