We’re back in Crisler this afternoon for the third installment of our current four-game homestand. This afternoon, our Wolverines face the mighty South Florida Bulls, winners of 6 NBA titles in the — oh, wrong Bulls. These Bulls are no slouches though, having achieved a 5-2 record so far this season on the strength of wins over teams like Stetson and Grand Canyon. They’re coming off of a season in which they finished a hot 1-15 in Conference USA. We’re without Daniel (4 weeks), Graham (4-6 weeks), and Lester (season), but there’s no reason our team is going to roll over here in December. We need to stay right with them as their official support group and help them play a solid forty minutes of basketball in every game. Let’s make Crisler move this afternoon, Rage.

Here is the starting lineup for the South Florida Bulls (5-2, 0-0 Conference USA):

Coach Robert McCullum
Coached at WMU when they knocked us off in 2001 and 2002; get revenge

Boston Bandwagon: Chris Capko (#10), a standout baseball player in high school in Lakeland, Fla., professes that he is “an avid fan of the Boston Red Sox and Boston Celtics” and lists Paul Pierce as his favorite NBA player. Let’s get warmed up for our showdown with Boston U. on Tuesday with some Boston heckling today, especially since he is probably just another one of the million bandwagon Red Sox fans who repeat the phrase “Reverse the Curse” over and over in their sleep.

Yeah, Alaska: Stevie Moss (#11), whose actual first name is “Loren”, hails from Anchorage, Alaska, making him the second Alaskan to roll through Crisler this year. In case you’ve forgotten, the last Alaskan was Binghamton’s star center Nick Billings, who couldn’t muster a single point against the Wolverines before fouling out. Don’t hesitate to remind Loren of this fact.

The rest of the roster: 4 – Brandon Bridgman, 5 – Marcus Prekevicius, 12 – Bradley Mosley, 13 – Brandyn Flowers, 23 – Collin Dennis, 24 – Melvin Buckley, 33 – Konimba Diarra

Ladies and gentlemen, your USF Lady Bulls: For USF’s Midnight Mania to kick off the season, the USF men cross-dressed as the women’s team and performed a workout routine. Rage, it’s up to you to decide which team (men or women) is at Crisler today.

Dance Team (clap clap): The Michigan Dance Team, #1 of all of the world’s dance teams in this week’s Maize Rage Championship Series (MRCS), will perform its “Summer in the City” routine at halftime this afternoon. Come back Tuesday for the MDT’s Holiday Special during the Boston U. game. The MDT can be visited on the Web at http://www.umich.edu/~umdance.

Things to Remember:
- We hate Boston University.
- Mix in some other defensive chants with popcorn this afternoon.
- We hate Boston University.
- Watch the band so we don’t speed up during the a cappella Victors.
- Keep chants at a steady pace.
- We hate Boston University.
- Be here Tuesday night. Doors open at 5:30.
