MICHIGAN FACTS
MICHIGAN vs. WISCONSIN

Michigan's Tom Curtis today celebrates his 22nd birthday, and in the process intercepts his 22nd career pass.

Michigan kept one mark in tact when it failed to yield a touch-down in the first quarter. Minnesota's field goal is the only scoring the Wolverines have allowed in the opening period this season.

Curtis' return of 27 yards with his interception gives him a career total of 382 yards returned on interceptions. This gives him second place on the all-time list behind Michigan State's Lynn Chandois who had 410 yards.

Jim Mandich moved into second place in most yards gained by pass receiving for a Michigan player. He now has 1273 and trails Jack Clancy who totaled 1919 in his career. Mandich also became the second player to exceed 100 receptions in a career. His three today give him 102.

Bill Taylor saw limited action in the second half. He suffered a bruised side.

Marty missed the second half due to a severely bruised knee.

(Huff)

In two weeks, Billy Taylor has moved behind ~~xxxx~~ Garvie Craw ~~xxx xxxxxx~~ for third in touchdowns scored this season. Taylor's two today plus his three last week against Minnesota puts him one TD behind Craw. Moorhead leads the Wolverines with 8.
