

Student Checklist

Language, Literature, and Culture of Ancient Greece

This minor is designed to provide a basic, but contextual and broad, familiarity with Greek language and literature and the civilization of ancient Greece. More specifically, it requires students to study, at the intermediate and advanced level, Greek and authors writing poetry and/or prose, but at the same time it acquaints the student with the broader historical, social, and cultural context in which these authors lived and worked.

Prerequisites:

- Greek 301 or equivalent, as determined by the departmental placement examination.

Requisites:

At least 16 credits of courses chosen from the following three groups:

(1) Choose at least two upper-level courses in Greek language and literature

_____ Credits: _____

_____ Credits: _____

(2) Choose at least one broad introductory course in Greek civilization from the following:

Classical Civilization 101 [The Ancient Greek World] (4 credits)

Classical Archaeology 221 [Introduction to Greek Archaeology] (4 credits)

History 200 [Greece to 201 B.C.] (4 credits)

(3) Choose at least one upper level (300 or 400-level) in:

Greek Civilization _____ Credits: _____

Greek Archaeology _____ Credits: _____

Greek History _____ Credits: _____

Total Credits: _____

For further questions or to schedule an advising appointment, please contact:

Allison Friendly Undergraduate Administrator
Phone: 615-3181 E-mail: aalt@umich.edu