

FREE TRADER AT 80

August 2007

Globalization is Bob Stern today.
Not only in his thought but in the way
He flies around. As we all know he may
Be in Estonia or in Japan
Or Ethiopia and then the man
Summers in Wellfleet (but he doesn't tan).

What makes it tougher in this mixed up town
Is Democrats as Luddites, watch them frown
To see impediments to trade go down.
They've turned their backs on NAFTA and forget
That was Bill Clinton's win, though we may yet
See Hillary tear more holes in that net.

I'm with you, Bob, but how do you propose
To get into high office one who knows
Which way, in the real world, the true wind blows?

Don Axon