Hunchakian Party Newspaper Archives Available on the Web

The Armenian Studies Program at the University of Michigan announced the web posting of the Hunchakian Party central organization, "Hnchak." on its website.

The Social Democratic Hunchakian (Hunchakian) Party was the first Armenian political organization that became a national/international organization aiming at the liberation of Ottoman Armenians. The central organ of the party was the "Hnchak," published in Geneva, where the party was founded in 1887. The collection of "Hnchak" issues presented here covers the period 1887-1915, including the publications as "Hnchaks"s of rival factions of the party in 1903. Few full collections remain.

The digitization and webposting of the "Hnchak" collection from the National Library of Armenia has been made possible by the the Nor Serount Cultural Association and the Social Democratic Hunchakian Party/California.
