Ehsaas, a realization of culture. PSA welcomed students, teachers, parents, and friends to this journey through Pakistan on March 30th. The first ever Pakistani cultural show held at the university portrayed Pakistan through the eyes of an American desi, who travels to his motherland and discovers his roots and the various cultures his country has to offer. Starting from Gilgit in the northeast part of Pakistan, all the way to Karachi in the south, he experiences the life of Pathans, Sufis, Punjabis, and Sindhis. The show incorporated various dances, skits, a musical act, and a walk on the red carpet that glamorized Pakistani clothing. Students of diverse backgrounds participated in this event.

We owe the huge success of Ehsaas to a few selected people who, with their talent and creativity, organized this year's fashion/cultural show. With ideas coming forth from both Pakistani and Indian minds, the show proved to be fun-filled, and at the same time, culturally stimulating. PSA Board would like to thank the following people for their hard work and effort. From left to right, shown below: Sami Baqai, Sheena Ardeshta, Huma Alam, Sowmya Jagganath, Sakina Saiyed, Emad Ansari, and AbuBakar Shamsi. Due to these individuals' valor and not to mention the countless hours of sleep they gave up, the PSA Fashion Show's participation, audience, and enthusiasm more than doubled than previous years.

Adieu, One Last Goodbye! By Usman Shahid

Dear PSA,

It is a time for change and it certainly is one for PSA. As the old guards step down and new faces take over, I wish the new PSA board an excellent new year of 2008-2009.

PSA has given me a lot and I certainly hope that I did my job to the best of my ability. I want to thank all the people who became a part of PSA this year, especially the board, for their outstanding performance coping with me throughout the year. The Show Core did a splendid job in organizing the fashion show and I wish them all the success in their future endeavors.

The 6 board positions for 2008-2009 got elected unopposed. Congratulations once again to Burhan Razi, Hamza Waqar, Ahmed Zaidi, Saba Raza, Nadia Hasan, Faarya Niaz, and Saad Jamil Sawar. I hope you all will take PSA to a higher level next year.

On a sidenote, I'd like to congratulate all the graduates of the class of 2008. Go Blue!
