Article V : Election Proceedings

1. An election is to be held annually to elect the committee.
2. A general meeting will be called and the election can only take place if at least 60% of the members vote. There will be no voting by proxy. In the event that less than 60% vote, another general meeting must be called. Should this meeting also fail to meet the required turnout, a committee will be elected from whatever the voter turnout. This committee shall be no different from any other committees.
3. Any member can volunteer or be nominated for the committee. However, a member may, if he/she so wishes, decline a nomination. An exception to this case will be that the candidates for President must be either a Singaporean or a Singapore Permanent Resident.
4. A secret ballot will be conducted to select the committee members from the candidates.
5. All positions will be specifically voted for by the members.
6. General members should be informed of the new committee’s organization within 1 week of the election proceedings.
